

President Bush
Urges You To Vote For

Bret Schundler

“The vice president and I look forward to helping Bret Schundler become the governor of New Jersey. I think Bret Schundler and I share something in common. We’re always underestimated.”

– President George W. Bush

Dear fellow American:

I am writing friends and supporters in New Jersey to encourage you to vote for Bret Schundler for Governor on November 6.

Bret is running for Governor to lower taxes, improve education, and ensure that the American dream is available to every willing citizen.

Bret has laid out a positive agenda to cut property taxes, improve New Jersey schools, and revive the economy in the New York-New Jersey metropolitan area.

I know Bret Schundler can do all these things because of his outstanding work as Mayor of Jersey City. He attracted thousands of new jobs to the city, expanded educational opportunities for the city’s poorest children, and cut property taxes. Under Bret Schundler’s leadership, violent crime dropped 38 percent.

Is it any wonder then that Bret Schundler was the first Republican elected and re-elected mayor of this heavily Democratic and 65 percent minority city in over 70 years?

I urge you to cast your vote for Bret Schundler for governor of New Jersey on Tuesday November 6. Bret will be a leader and Governor that all of New Jersey can be proud of, and he will be a valued partner to my administration.

– President George W. Bush
